Timesaving, flexible RapidRun:

It's a must for today's businesses to set themselves apart from the competition. And whether it's used for soliciting new business, recruiting new employees or creating a leading image, advanced technology greatly enhances the perception of a progressive company.

Whether you're installing a state-of-the-art conference or board room, featuring digital signage in a reception area, or editing a video to show your shareholders and employees, RapidRun is the perfect fit for all your audio/video needs.

Two-time winner of the Mark of Excellence award, RapidRun is the modular interconnect system for A/V and Video presentation systems that can transmit multiple signals over a single cable – including composite video, S-Video, component video and, with new digital capabilities, any combination of HDMI and DVI video.

RapidRun drastically reduces installation time – translating to a higher return on investment. Combined with proven reliability, affordable pricing and an easy-to-upgrade format, it's not surprising RapidRun is the industry's #1 choice for commercial audio/video applications.
